

Mea Maxima Culpa

This issue of the Yorkshire Chess Association Bulletin sets a new record - in lateness. Since the Bulletin has joint editors, it is only fair to my co-editor to admit that this tardiness is entirely my fault.

I won't bore the readers with a long complicated explanation of the great delay in producing this issue. Since I began to take a hand in producing this Bulletin back in 1975, my commitments outside chess have steadily grown. Due to a combination of circumstances, the burden of these other commitments have become particularly heavy this year, and until now it has not been possible to find the free weekend which is needed to type the Bulletin and paste it up ready for the printer. I must also confess that some of this delay has been due to the good weather, when outdoor attractions have outweighed the pleasures of the typewriter.

In future the editorship of the Bulletin will be in the hands of Geoffrey Sunderland and David Milton. Geoff has been my co-editor for the past eight years. With his experience and Dave's enthusiasm, I look forward to reading future issues, and to receiving them on time!

A Near Miss

Yorkshire narrowly missed retaining the County Championship when the final was played in Rugby early in July. The full results are given elsewhere. There is an interesting account of the match by the arbiter, Peter Gibbs, in the August issue of the British Chess Magazine. He was critical of the playing conditions at the Newton Village Hall. British chess has come a long way in the past 20 years, but the county championships are still played under poor conditions at obscure venues. The British Chess Federation would no doubt get a friendlier reception in these parts, if it showed some willingness to use its funds to promote the county championships in good conditions and with some publicity.

Our New Secretary

An era in Yorkshire chess came to an end in June when Geoffrey Sunderland resigned as General Secretary. Geoffrey first became Competitions Controller in 1962, and became General Secretary in 1973. His magnificent service to Yorkshire chess was marked by the naming of our fourth division trophy as the A.G. Sunderland Cup, and on his retirement as General Secretary he was presented with a silver salver as a mark of personal appreciation.

Geoffrey's retains his connection with Yorkshire chess through his joint editorship of this Bulletin, and especially through his historical articles, the second of which appears in this issue.

As his successor we welcome David Milton from Hull. David is perhaps the most energetic chess organiser in Yorkshire, and with his many experiences in running chess events at all levels, we can be sure he will fully justify his new position.

YORKSHIRE CHESS ASSOCIATION - EARLY YEARS

Part 2

by A.G.Sunderland

After the first festival at Leeds on January 18th, 1841 the pattern was set and there followed the second at the Exchange Buildings in "Merrie" Wakefield on November 18th 1841 attended by 50 guests with a sumptuous dinner at the Bull Inn presided over by the Rev Tyson.

The third meeting took place at the Northgate Hotel in Halifax under the presidency of W.Briggs on November 2nd 1842.

Howard Staunton devoted over ten pages in his Chronicle to the fourth festival held at the George Hotel, Huddersfield on November 8th 1843 with the Earl of Mexborough presiding over the 60 to 70 guests. The centrepiece of the entertainment, as had become the routine, was the 6 or 7 course banquet with a pint of wine and coffee included at an all in cost of half a guinea per head. After all the toasts and speeches the President, at the request of the meeting, then wound up the meal by singing "Willie brew'd a peck a'malt". Whatever the quality of his singing the noble earl could certainly play a bit. It is recorded that he then gave a knight to a strong Wakefield player and beat him three times.

1843 was also the year in which Staunton beat St.Amant in Paris and ended the French domination held over the previous hundred years. His success, not unnaturally, sparked off an added impetus wherever he toured in the provinces including the Yorkshire clubs.

No event was held in Yorkshire in 1844. Instead a regular Nottingham visitor, Samuel Newham, invited the Yorkshire players to a festival in Nottingham where the proceedings ran a similar course as in Yorkshire with the Sheriff presiding. Every game, the Chronicle states, was registered and inferior players were compelled to take odds.

What appears to be the first over the board match took place on September 30th 1845 between the Halifax and Wakefield clubs at the home of the Halifax President, Mr E.Cronhelm of Crow Nest, Crow Wood. The teams were of five players playing three games each starting at 10am. This ended in a draw +7 -7 =1.

The return match was played in December at the vicarage of the Rev.Tyson; Wakefield winning +7 -6 =2.

The fifth meeting was again held in Leeds on May 14th 1845, playing at the Assembly Rooms and banqueting at the Scarborough Hotel. This was the largest gathering to date and presided over by the Earl of Mexborough. Guests included Geo Walker, Staunton and J.Worrell from London and L.Bryan from Paris. St Amant was the principal guest with Geo Walker presiding at the sixth festival on May 13th 1846 at Wakefield.

The venue for the seventh meeting on May 12th 1847 was The Public Rooms at Hull and such was the interest aroused that it was prolonged for two days. Guests among the 120 who attended the banquet included five master rank players in Harrwitz, Horwitz, Kieseritsky, St Amant and Staunton. As part of the event Staunton gave a blindfold exhibition playing two games simultaneously, losing one to a young Hull player named Boden. So talented was Samuel Standidge Boden (1826-82) that he was to become the first of only two professional players the county has produced and inevitably he was drawn into the London professional circle of players. As an author he published at least one book "Popular Introduction to the Study and Practice of Chess", 1851 and was chess editor of The Field from 1858 to 1873.

The following game played at the Hull Chess Club in 1848 is taken from the Chess Players Chronicle. It is likely to be less well known than his games against Morphy.

Coincidentally we have also received from David Mills a piece about Boden, which now follows.

SAMUEL STANDIDGE BODEN

April 4th 1826 - January 13th 1882

by D.G.Mills

One of the strongest local players of the last century was Samuel Standidge Boden, an active member of the Hull Chess Club. He moved to London in 1849, taking up employment with the South Eastern Railway, and entered the Provincial Tournament at the 1851 London Congress, winning first prize. Soon afterwards his popular "Introduction to Chess" was published.

Between 1854 and 1855 Boden edited the British Chess Review jointly with Harrwitz. He competed in the Manchester Tournament of 1857, reaching the final against Lowenthal, but scratched after a drawn game. From 1858 to 1869 he edited the chess column in "The Field" and during 1868 edited the "Westminster Papers". Competing at the Bristol Tournament of 1861 he beat Horwitz and Wayte to reach the final, yet retired after losing one game to Paulsen.

Morphy declared Boden the strongest British player he met, and in casual games against the American genius, the Yorkshireman scored one win, four draws and six defeats. In two matches against Owen during 1858 he emerged the victor.

In his later years Boden turned his talents to organising chess events. He spent much of his time at Simpson's Divan where his dry sense of humour and wide knowledge of great players of the past entertained friends. Several of his landscapes were exhibited at the Suffolk Street Gallery between 1865 and 1873. He died at his home at Tavistock Street, Bedford Square, London, just over one hundred years ago.

The first game was played in 1847 at the seventh annual meeting of the Yorkshire Chess Association held in Hull. Harrwitz played blindfold.

15 YEAR OLD YORKSHIRE CHAMPION!

We congratulate Angus Dunnington of Leeds on winning the Yorkshire Individual Championship. We believe that at 15, Angus is the youngest player ever to have won this championship.

The competition was organised by Derek Markham. The final pool of five players resulted in a three way tie which was resolved by a further play-off.

LEEDS JUNIOR RAPID PLAY TOURNAMENT

Angus Dunnington scored another success in this tournament which was organised by Nick Nixon at Rose Forgroves on May 7th. The tournament was sponsored by W.H.STRINGER & Co, a local firm of book wholesalers and retailers, who presented book prizes to the winners and runners up in each section.

With 71 players - 67 boys and only 4 girls - the tournament was played in 11 groups, with a final knock-out between the winners of each group. The tournament report adds that consolation prizes were given to those who failed to win a single game; a thoughtful touch that could be copied elsewhere.

Final result: 1st Angus Dunnington, 2nd David Craggs, 3rd Chris Bennett.

YORKSHIRE TEAM LIGHTNING

The team lightning championship was played at was has now become its traditional venue, the canteen of Messrs Rowntree-Macintosh, in York on February 12th, and was controlled by David Hardcastle and David Milton. A strong Leeds team won the event with some comfort. In all 23 teams competed.

LEAGUE NEWS

We are grateful to M.J.Kent's bulletin - all hand written - for the news that in the Doncaster and District Chess Association's leagues the first division was won by Southern A. Stuart Acton, Secretary of the York and District Chess Association, also sends us his news regularly. In their leagues division I has been won by York University I, division II by Acomb I, and division III by Norton & Malton II. N.Dowker of Shephard's Chess Club is the new York Open Champion. M.D.Winn of Archbishop Holgate's Grammar School is the under 18 champion, and A.Johnson (Bootham School) is under 15 champion. The under 13 winner is G.Longley of Woldgate School, and M.Nash of York Chess Club is the under 11 winner.

HARROGATE EASTER CONGRESS

This year the Association's Easter Congress at Harrogate was sponsored by SYSTIME. Some 300 players competed for over £2000 in prizes.

The Open Championship resulted in a tie between International Master Mark Hebden of Leicester, and British Master Richard Britton of Hull.

NINETEENTH CENTURY CHESS IN HULL by D.G.Mills

Several chess columns were published in 19th century Hull periodicals. Mr J.Crake of 14, Walmsley Street, Hull edited one which first appeared in the "Hull Bellman" on September 7th, 1878. The following game was included in the issue of October 5th, 1878. It is described as a contest from an International Postal Event. Both Mr Crake and Mr Philip were active in Hull chess circles.

WOODHOUSE CUP - 50 YEARS AGO

In the 1932-3 season the Woodhouse Cup was played in two sections. Leeds won the western section of five teams and Hull won the three team eastern section.

The other teams in the eastern section were York and Scarborough. Scarborough dropped out the following year, and as far as we know, never played again in the Woodhouse Cup. Thus next season they will be returning after an absence of fifty years.

At the Annual General Meeting the first team captain, Derek Markham, circulated a list of top performances by first team players. Taking into account the results in the Kent match, John Hall on top board achieved the remarkably good record of 6 out of 7, making a total of $11\frac{1}{2}$ out of 14 over two years. James Howell scored 5 out of 8 on board 3, and M. Eke was unbeaten with $5\frac{1}{2}$ out of 7.

Hull Chess Club is to be especially congratulated on winning the Woodhouse Cup with a 100% match record. Scarborough's performance in winning promotion to the Woodhouse Cup competition is also notable. Entering our leagues only three years ago, they have now won each of the three lower leagues in turn to reach the premier division.

The play-off took place in Hull on March 27th 1933. It was a major occasion. The teams were welcomed by the Deputy Lord Mayor and two Hull MPs. The Archbishop of York had written wishing Hull success.

Leeds, with a very strong team, won 7½-2½. Top board for Leeds was Julius Silverman, who later himself became an MP, and only retired from Parliament at the recent General Election.
